

Miss Dickinson Becomes Bride Of Miller Hoblin This Afternoon

After American Trip Couple
Leaves for Home in Saigon, Indo-China.

A pretty wedding will take place at the church of the Incarnation this afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Aurelia Dickinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Dickinson, will become the wife of Miller Hoblin, of Saigon, Indo-China.

The church will be effectively decorated for the occasion with a profusion of palms, white roses and chrysanthemums, and there will be an elaborate musical program, Mr. Taylor, presiding at the organ. The bride has been the organist at the church for several years, resigning on account of her marriage.

Miss Dickinson, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a white tulle gown with a large white sash and will carry a large white bouquet of lilies.

Miss Ruth Todd, the maid of honor, will wear a white gown with pink sash and will carry a cluster of pink roses.

Dr. Giles B. Cook, of Richmond, Va., will be the best man, and the ushers will be Clement L. Bouve, Dr. William H. Littlepage, Arthur McConville, and Colin McRea.

There will be no reception, Mr. Hoblin and his bride leaving Washington immediately after the ceremony for a Southern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoblin will sail from San Francisco, November 1, for their future home in Indo-China.

They will spend Thanksgiving in Japan, and after visiting in the north of China, will reach their home in Saigon, where Mr. Hoblin is manager of the Standard Oil Company's branch office, about Christmas.

Miss Carpenter
Bride of November.

An early November wedding of interest will be that of Miss Alice Miriam Carpenter, daughter of Mrs. M. L. Carpenter, and William Lewis Miller, which will take place Wednesday evening, November 3, at 7 o'clock, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the Rev. J. Russell Verbyre, the pastor, officiating in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends.

Miss Carpenter will be attended by her sister, Miss Helen P. Carpenter, as maid of honor, and Miss Frances Evelyn Palmer Doyle, as flower girl.

A. M. Roderick will be Mr. Miller's best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Charles A. Jones, H. E. Doyle, Charles R. Brown, Jr., and George Shaffer.

Mr. Miller and his bride will leave Washington immediately after the ceremony for their trip, and upon their return will hold a reception at their future residence, 129 Meridian street, Thursday evening, November 17.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Charles H. Davis, U. S. N., will close their honeymoon at their residence in this month, and return to Washington for the winter.

Count Felix von Brussel-Schaubek, first secretary of the Austro-Hungarian embassy, will return to Washington from Lenox in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Noyes have arrived in Washington from their summer place in Illinois. Mr. Noyes, who is visiting Miss Sophy Johnston, at Cazenovia, N. Y., will return to Washington within a fortnight.

Miss Mason will be married to Raymond Sagar Hart this morning at 11 o'clock at the Mt. Vernon Place M. E. Church, South, the pastor, the Rev. J. Howard Wells, officiating, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The wedding music was played by J. Edgar Robinson, and the church was beautifully decorated with quantities of palms, ferns, and clusters of white cosmos blossoms.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Grafton Mason, of St. Paul, Minn., wore a tailored suit of navy blue cloth, with a small white veil and a small white bouquet of lilies.

Miss Sallie Mason, who was her sister's only attendant, wore a suit of brown cloth, with a small white veil and a small white bouquet of lilies.

Wayne Hart was his brother's best man, and the ushers were J. E. Redman, W. B. Cash, R. B. Blackley, and Meade Holton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart left immediately after the ceremony.

MEMORIAL BOULDER FORMALLY UNVEILED

BRADFORD, Mass., Oct. 12.—In the presence of a large number of spectators, including a delegation from the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, at present in session in Boston, the memorial boulder, recently erected on the shore of Rabbit's pond, to commemorate the starting of the movement, a hundred years ago, which led to the organization of the American board, was unveiled today with appropriate ceremonies.

The monument is of Concord granite, eight feet high, five feet wide, and three feet thick. On one side is a large cross, carved in relief, on the other a bronze tablet, giving a brief history of the society which was founded in a small church that stood in the place now occupied by the boulder.

Prof. Edward Y. Hincks, of the Andover Theological Seminary, made a brief historical statement, and the Rev. Robert A. Hume, a graduate of the seminary and later missionary in India, delivered the dedicatory address.

PRESS CLUB HOST TO NOTED BIRD MEN

Planned to Make "Aviation Night" Famous—Military Officers to Attend.

Tonight is "aviation night" at the Press Club. Claude Graham-White, Clifford B. Harmon, America's foremost amateur aviator; Commodore John Barry Ryan, of the United States Aeronautical Reserve, and Sidney Macdonald, of Manchester, England, are to be the guests at a special reception arranged in their honor.

Members of the club are planning to make the affair as famous as "hobby night" of last season.

Some of their thrilling experiences in air navigation, it is expected, will be related to the newspapermen by Mr. Graham-White and Mr. Harmon, while Commodore Ryan will outline the plan and scope of the United States Aeronautical Reserve.

Capt. Charles J. Fox will be master of ceremonies. The members of the reception committee include Elmer E. Patne, of the Associated Press; Ralph Graves, of the Washington Post; John B. Smallwood, of the Washington Times, and J. Lynn Eagle, of the Washington Herald.

Among those to whom invitations have been sent are Gen. James Allen, chief signal officer of the army; Major George O. Snyder, of the Signal Corps; Charles J. Bell and Dr. A. F. Zahn, of the Aero Club of Washington; William F. Gude, president of the Washington Chamber of Commerce; A. Leftwich, chairman of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Gen. George T. Harries, president of the Board of Trade.

Army and navy officers, members of the Aero Club of Washington and others interested in aviation have been invited to attend, and it is expected that one of the largest gatherings ever assembled in the club quarters will be on hand to greet the distinguished visitors.

noon's program will be devoted to a glider exhibition. There are several gliders at the park, and these instruments of aerial flight will give a demonstration several times during the amateur meet.

With the good weather that is prevailing Aero Club officials predict a big crowd at the opening of the meet, as it is likely that some of the amateurs will make an effort to establish records.

College Park can be reached by cars leaving Fifteenth and G streets, or by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

ELY QUILTS FLIGHT TOWARD NEW YORK

Aviator Gets Discouraged at Slow Progress and Several Breakdowns.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Wishing to be in New York for the International aviation meet October 22, Aviator Ely has temporarily abandoned his attempt to fly there from Chicago and has taken passage on a train. He was due to arrive in New York late today.

Negotiations were begun with the men who offered the $20,000 prize for an attempt at a later date.

With twenty miles and three breakdowns to his credit, in three days, the possibility of making the other 260 miles by Sunday afternoon dampened Ely's ardor and he dismantled the machine.

Ely kept his courage and persisted in his determination to continue his flight until it was discovered that some of the parts needed to repair his machine, broken in a fall of the day before, would have to be cast; and that no start could be made until today.

The team of Curtiss drivers left for Cleveland to participate in an exhibition there.

WANTED—A HUSBAND; WOMAN OFFERS $200

Cash Bonus Put Up—Must Be Married to Get Request.

married one week from today. I am very poor. I want the money. I plan to get married in order to obtain it. I will pay any young man $200 to marry me. O, do you think some one will?"

It was explained to her that even in America, marriage is considered a serious business, and that the average man upon being made acquainted with her proposition would be likely to exclaim:

"This is so sudden, and ask for time to think it over."

"But I will be no trouble to him. You do not understand. I will get a divorce from him at once. I never want to see him again. I do not want to remain married. I only want to return to Germany at once with my marriage papers. Could a man make $200 in any easier way?"

Her real name this woman in search of a husband refuses to make public, for fear her adventure may become known to her family in Germany. In the matrimonial market, she intends to be known as Miss Eugenie Adams.

She refused to disclose her identity, or to any facts relating to the position of her family in Germany. She is intelligent and refined in appearance, speaks good German in a well-modulated voice, and wears a smart tailor suit in gray cloth.

And why does she not return to Germany and wed? Why, because she can't, of course. For in Germany a woman is passed at thirty. Only in America, says Miss Eugenie Adams, is a woman of forty a young girl. Let American women appreciate their opportunities and blessings, urges Miss Adams, for only in the land of the free and the home of the brave has a woman a ghost of a chance to wed after she is past her early twenties.

Miss Adams came to America on the ticket purchased by a friend. The friend, however, with the eccentric idea of making a fortune, urged Miss Adams, for only in the land of the free and the home of the brave has a woman a ghost of a chance to wed after she is past her early twenties.

And so, will some kind-hearted man please step forward and propose to the young woman with the eccentric old uncle. In Germany she should be passed, it is true, but in America it might be worse.

"And besides," says Miss Eugenie Adams, "I have heard that in America a woman may be married one day, and divorced the next. In Germany it is not so."

WOMAN BURGLARS SOCIETY LEADERS

Chicago Trio Arrested After Exciting Chase in an Auto.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Hattie Jennings, sixty years old, and her two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Hayden and Miss Laura Jennings, were arrested in their home in fashionable Prairie avenue today, accused of being the women automobile burglars who robbed a score of farm houses near Crown Point, Ind., and escaped with the loot.

"I don't know why you do it, unless it was just devilry," sobbed Mrs. Hayden. A case of eggs, preserves, vegetables from the Hayden garage. All the prisoners are well known in South Side society.

Tearful followed a spectacular pursuit of the Hayden car, which was traced to Chicago.

SLAIN BY BROTHER ON YOM KIPPUR EVE

BALTIMORE, October 12.—On the eve of Yom Kippur, the most solemn of all Hebrew worshipful holidays, Louis Scherr, a Hebrew tailor, residence New York, walked into a shop at 14 East street, this city, this afternoon and without giving his brother, Harry Scherr, a chance to see him, was slain with a huge dirk.

The brother's head was severed from his body. The cause of the slaying is reported to be a long standing family feud.

SHIPS IN CRASH ESCAPE SINKING

ST. CLAIR PLATS, Mich., Oct. 12.—The steel-built steamers James Reed, loaded with ore, and Martin Mullins, loaded with coal, collided at Southeast Bend today, and both had narrow escapes from sinking.

The boats were run ashore at full speed with their bows crushed, to prevent going to the bottom.

NEVER UNMAIDENLY, SAYS MISS QUINN

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—"This Corneilia Dawburn Peck" was how Miss Esther Quinn, plaintiff in the $50,000 breach of promise of marriage suit in which Harry Thurston Peck, recently professor of Latin languages in Columbia University, is defendant, characterized the professor's first wife during her examination by C. D. Francis, lawyer for Peck, in the office of her attorney, Daniel O'Reilly, in the Pulitzer building.

Miss Quinn's examination was obtained by Peck's counsel to enable him, if possible, to substantiate allegations by manner with any man, including Peck. Mr. Francis went over the whole ground, but only succeeded in bringing forth indignant denials.

"Did Peck propose to marry you on any occasion before September 15, 1908, at your apartment, 323 West 134th street?" asked Lawyer Francis.

"I answered that question at least eight times yesterday," replied Miss Quinn. "He never did until after he had been divorced from this Corneilia Dawburn Peck."

Mr. Francis then endeavored to learn if Miss Quinn had known a man of about fifty years of age who was a lawyer at 60 Wall Street. She said she did not, and followed up her denial by saying she had never brought a damage suit against the man because he married somebody else.

"Didn't you know a man intimately when you were employed on the Commercial Advertiser?" Francis asked.

"What do you mean by intimately?" retorted the witness.

Lawyer O'Reilly suggested that Mr. Francis use the word "immorally" instead of "intimately." His opponent agreed, and Miss Quinn answered: "No." She said she had never tried to blackmail any one.

WESTERNER GREET MRS. McKIM FIRST

Rich Ray Baker, Mining Engineer, Said to Be Suitor of Divorcee.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—When Mrs. Margaret Emerson McKim returned from her tour of Japan, after her divorce at Reno from Dr. Smith Hollis McKim, the first person to see her at the St. Francis Hotel was Ray Baker, wealthy mining engineer of San Francisco, Oakland, and Nevada.
